

Job Vacancy Announcement

Available Position:

Site Foreman

Company Profile:

Rick Breeding Excavating Inc is a family owned excavation company that has been in business for over twenty years. We complete residential, commercial, and agricultural projects for various customers on the Delmarva Peninsula, and have traveled as far as Owings Mills, MD and inside the Washington beltway for satisfied repeat customers. We specialize in providing turnkey residential and commercial site work packages.

Job Description:

A site foreman's duty is to supervise site operations. They are responsible for practicing safe work practices and wearing proper work attire as well as the required personal protection equipment. They will need to be able to manage a crew of various sizes to keep projects on schedule and budget. They are responsible for communicating with project managers regarding scheduling, material deliveries, and documenting daily activities. They should be able to read plans, perform layout, operate equipment, and have vast knowledge of the excavation industry. Along with the supervisory duties and equipment operation a site foreman is responsible to perform the necessary labor activities that are required of the project assigned.

Qualifications and skills:

A candidate should possess the following qualifications:

- 5 to 10 years of civil construction experience with 2-3 years of supervisor experience.
- Equipment Operation experience.
- Ability to read blue prints and perform layout.
- Ability to lift object of various weights.
- Valid driver's license.
- Must be able to work with others.
- CDL class A or B, sediment and erosion control certifications, and traffic control certifications are bonuses.

Position Benefits:

- Competitive salary negotiable based on experience.
- Health insurance is available after 3 months of employment.
- Company Vehicle
- Opportunity for overtime.

Interested Parties Should:

Send applications and experience checklist with a copy of your driver's license to Rick Breeding via fax or email.

Fax: 410-479-0079

Email: jrbei@verizon.net